

INTERNAL PLAYBOOK

The Lead-to-Client System

How a free-consult request on yuccaagency.com becomes a booked call, and a booked call becomes a signed client — the exact process to run on every lead, every time.

The site fills the pipeline with business owners who already raised their hand. But a form submission isn't a client — most of them are lost to slow replies, a flat first call, and follow-up that quietly stops after one try. The Lead-to-Client System is the process that closes that gap.

THE ONE RULE THAT BEATS EVERYTHING

Speed. The odds of reaching and booking a lead drop sharply by the minute. Reply to every new consult request within 5 minutes — a fast, human reply outperforms a perfect, late one, every time.

01 The First Call Script

Turn a form submission into a booked consult.

02 Follow-up Templates

Copy-paste texts & emails for leads who don't book right away.

03 The Follow-up Cadence

Exactly when and how to follow up, day by day.

04 Objection Handlers

Calm, proven responses to what leads actually say.

05 No-Show Prevention

Keep booked consults from turning into no-shows.

COMPONENT 01

01 The First Call Script

A word-for-word framework to turn a new consult request into a booked call — on the first try.

1 Open quickly & warmly — within 5 minutes

"Hi [Name], this is [Your Name] from Yucca. I saw you just requested a free consultation for [Business Name] — is now an okay time?"

2 Understand why they reached out

"What made you start looking into paid social now?" · "Have you run ads before, or would this be a first?"

3 Reassure & bridge to value

"That's exactly what we help with. The best next step is a free 30-minute consult — we'll look at your numbers and map out what a campaign could look like. No pitch deck, no pressure."

4 Book it — assume the call, offer two times

"I've got two openings this week — [Day] at [time] or [Day] at [time]. Which works better?"

5 Lock it in

"Perfect, you're down for [day/time]. What's the best number and email for the invite?"

Set expectations before you hang up

"You'll get a calendar invite now and a reminder the day before. If anything changes, just reply to that text and we'll move it."

QUICK TIPS

Reference their specific business type from the form — it's the fastest way to show you actually read it. Don't quote exact pricing on this call; the goal is the booked consult, not the close.

COMPONENT 02

02 Follow-up Templates

Most leads won't pick up the first time. These get them back. Copy, fill the brackets, send.

TextNo answer

within 5 min

Hi [Name], it's [Your Name] from Yucca — just tried calling about the free consult you requested. Happy to text if that's easier — what's a good time?

EmailSame-day value email

Day 1

Subject: Your paid social consult — Yucca Agency

Hi [Name], thanks for reaching out. The easiest next step is a free 30-minute consult so we can look at your numbers and map out what a campaign could look like for [Business Name]. Reply with a day that works and I'll hold the spot.
— [Your Name], Yucca Agency

TextFriendly nudge

Day 3

Hi [Name], still happy to grab 30 minutes this week — I've got [Day] at [time] open. Want me to save it?

Text

Final touch — leave the door open

Day 7

Hi [Name], last note from me — if now's not the right time, no worries at all. Reply whenever you're ready and we'll get you booked.

Make it yours: use their first name and their actual business every time — it's the difference between a marketing text and someone who read the form.

COMPONENT 03

03 The Follow-up Cadence

When to reach out, on which channel, and why — so no lead slips through the cracks.

WHEN	CHANNEL	GOAL
Within 5 min	Call	Reach them live and book — run the First Call Script.
+5 min	Text	Re-engage instantly while you're top of mind.
Same day	Email	Give them the info and an easy way to book.
Day 2	Call	Second live attempt, ideally a different time of day.
Day 3	Text	Friendly nudge with a specific open time.
Day 5	Call	Third and final call attempt.
Day 7	Text	Final touch — leave the door open.

RULE OF THUMB

Plan on 6–8 touches across call, text, and email before marking a lead inactive. Most bookings land on the 2nd–4th touch — vary the time of day so you're not always hitting the same busy moment. Once someone books, they move straight to No-Show Prevention.

COMPONENT 04

04 Objection Handlers

Calm, proven responses to what leads actually say. The goal is never to pressure — it's to remove the blocker and keep the next step easy.

"I need to think about it."

"Totally fair — it's a real decision." What's the main thing on your mind, the cost, the platform, or how it works? Let's get that answered, and I'll hold a no-obligation spot.

"How much does it cost?"

"Plans start at $1,000 a month, no long-term contract" — but the right number depends on your business, which is exactly what the consult is for. It's free, no pressure.

"I tried an agency / ran ads myself and it didn't work."

"That's really common, and it's usually a creative problem, not an ads problem." On the call we'll show you exactly what we'd change — even if you never hire us.

"I tried AI tools for this."

"AI's fast, but it's not taste" — that's usually where those campaigns fall flat. We'll show you the difference on the call.

"I need to check with my business partner."

"Of course — bring them on the call." We'll walk through everything together so you can decide as a team.

"Can't I just do this myself?"

"You could." The consult's still worth it either way — you'll leave with a clear read on your numbers and the first few things to fix, whether or not you hire us.

COMPONENT 05

05 No-Show Prevention Checklist

A booked consult isn't a client until they show up. Run this on every booking.

- ☐ Send a calendar invite + text confirmation immediately
Before you hang up. It makes the call feel real and gives them your number.
- ☐ Reminder 1 — 24 hours before
A friendly text with the date, time, and a one-tap way to confirm or reschedule.
- ☐ Reminder 2 — the morning of
Include the call link again and what to have ready — their ad account, current numbers. Remove every reason to miss it.
- ☐ Personalize every message
Use their name and business name. People show up for people, not for systems.
- ☐ Make rescheduling effortless
"Reply R to reschedule." A lead who reschedules is saved; a lead who ghosts is lost.
- ☐ Fill cancellations the same day
When someone cancels, immediately offer the slot to the next lead in the queue.
- ☐ Track your no-show rate monthly
What gets measured gets managed. A rising rate is an early warning to tighten this checklist.

THAT'S THE SYSTEM

Run it on every lead

Consistency beats perfection. The leads that turn into clients are the ones run through this the same way, every time.

- 1. The First Call Script — book the call on the first try.
- 2. Follow-up Templates — re-engage the leads who don't answer.
- 3. The Follow-up Cadence — 6–8 touches over two weeks.
- 4. Objection Handlers — remove the blocker, keep the next step easy.
- 5. No-Show Prevention — turn booked calls into signed clients.
